

DYSART SPRING SAFETY

Let's Talk... Spring Road Maintenance

In the winter, frost penetrates deep into the ground and freeze-thaw cycles damage our roads by creating cracks and potholes.

During the spring thaw, seasonal load restrictions are put into effect on some roadways. Seasonal load restrictions are authorized by the Public Works department.

During this time, the municipality improves road conditions and reduces potential flooding by:

- Using hot and cold mix asphalt to patch potholes during the winter and in early spring.
- Clearing snow from the ends of culverts and using steam to thaw frozen catch basins to allow maximum water flow and reduce potential flooding.
- Conducting a street sweeping blitz to remove accumulated debris and materials.
- Grading gravel roads and shoulders to re-establish an even road surface.
